

Resume Placeholder

Finally, note that the grading only evaluates the code written to generate your portfolio and how it appears visually. We're not looking to evaluate how interesting your bio is or the accuracy of your project descriptions (though of course, a potential employer would!). If you find that you're running out of time, think about whether Lorem Ipsum text or placeholder images could help. Be sure to acknowledge your sources!

If you feel like you don't have projects to add, think about the projects you have completed in recent courses. Projects can take many forms including reports, mockups, and source code. Any or all of those can be included in a portfolio. Lorem Ipsum or placeholders are also fine for the purpose of the assignment.

Finally, note that the grading only evaluates the code written to generate your portfolio and how it appears visually. We're not looking to evaluate how interesting your bio is or the accuracy of your project descriptions (though of course, a potential employer would!). If you find that you're running out of time, think about whether Lorem Ipsum text or placeholder images could help. Be sure to acknowledge your sources!

If you feel like you don't have projects to add, think about the projects you have completed in recent courses. Projects can take many forms including reports, mockups, and source code. Any or all of those can be included in a portfolio. Lorem Ipsum or placeholders are also fine for the purpose of the assignment.

Finally, note that the grading only evaluates the code written to generate your portfolio and how it appears visually. We're not looking to evaluate how interesting your bio is or the accuracy of your project descriptions (though of course, a potential employer would!). If you find that you're running out of time, think about whether Lorem Ipsum text or placeholder images could help. Be sure to acknowledge your sources!

If you feel like you don't have projects to add, think about the projects you have completed in recent courses. Projects can take many forms including reports, mockups, and source code. Any or all of those can be included in a portfolio. Lorem Ipsum or placeholders are also fine for the purpose of the assignment.

Finally, note that the grading only evaluates the code written to generate your portfolio and how it appears visually. We're not looking to evaluate how interesting your bio is or the accuracy of your project descriptions (though of course, a potential employer would!). If you find that you're running out of time, think about whether Lorem Ipsum text or placeholder images could help. Be sure to acknowledge your sources!

If you feel like you don't have projects to add, think about the projects you have completed in recent courses. Projects can take many forms including reports, mockups, and source code. Any or all of those can be included in a portfolio. Lorem Ipsum or placeholders are also fine for the purpose of the assignment.